1. What is EIP buyback assistance?

HDB will buy back flats from eligible flat owners who face genuine difficulties selling their flats at a reasonable price when the EIP quotas have been reached. This is on top of existing support measures which include giving the owners more time to sell their flats, and waiving the EIP limits in exceptional circumstances.

2. Who is eligible?

HDB will assess requests for buyback assistance by flat owners from all ethnic groups on a case-by-case basis, taking into consideration the specific circumstances of the household, including whether they have:

- Fulfilled the Minimum Occupation Period and owned the flat for at least 10 years; and
- Made regular genuine attempts over a continuous period to market the flat at a reasonable price while being constrained by one or more EIP limits.

EIP-constrained flat owners who do not fulfil the above-mentioned criteria, but who face extenuating circumstances, may seek special consideration from HDB.

Official Launch of Resale Flat Listing Service on HDB Flat Portal

Home > About Us > News & Publications > Press Releases > Official Launch of Resale Flat Listing Service on HDB Flat Portal

Published Date: 30 May 2024

Since the soft launch of the Resale Flat Listing (RFL) service on 13 May 2024, over 600 resale flats¹ have been listed for sale on the HDB Flat Portal. The RFL service on the HDB Flat Portal has been officially launched today, on 30 May 2024. Prospective HDB flat buyers and their appointed property agents can now browse the resale flat listings and carry out transactions directly with the flat sellers or the sellers' appointed property agents. Flat sellers can continue to list and market their flats on their own or appoint a property agent to manage their flat listing on their behalf. Property agents can use the personalised dashboard to manage their clients' activities, and this helps them focus on providing value-added services for their clients, such as budgeting and guidance on next steps.

1. Buyer consent
2. Seller must have committed (i.e. exercised OTP / signed S&P Agreement)
3. It must a completed housing unit in Singapore
4. He must not be subletting the whole flat at the time of resale application

TEMPORARY EXTENSION OF STAY

A private arrangement between flat sellers and buyers that allows sellers who have bought another property more time to move out of their flat, after resale completion.

| What are the conditions?

- Sellers must have committed (i.e. exercised Option to Purchase or signed Sale and Purchase Agreement) to buy a completed residential property in Singapore
- Sellers must not be renting out the whole flat at time of resale application
- Sellers and buyers must agree to the extension

| How long can the sellers stay?

- Up to 3 months after resale completion

| Who and when to apply?

- Sellers make request in resale application
- Buyers state consent in resale application

| Other things to note

- It is advisable for both parties to have a written agreement, including any monetary compensation, on the extension
- Buyers, as owners of the flat at time of extension, must pay an administrative fee of $20
- Buyers will have to pay Service & Conservancy Charges without rebates and property tax at non-owner-occupier residential rates during the period of extension
- Buyers' minimum occupation period will only start when they occupy the flat after the extension ends or is terminated

[NOTICE 01-24] TEMPORARY RELAXATION OF OCCUPANCY CAP FOR RENTAL OF RESIDENTIAL PROPERTIES

1. The Housing & Development Board (HDB) and the Urban Redevelopment Authority (URA), had announced on 20 December 2023 that the occupancy cap for the following types of residential properties will be temporarily relaxed from six unrelated persons to eight unrelated persons:

- a) 4-room and larger HDB flats.
- b) Living quarters of HDB commercial properties (where the living quarters are equivalent to or larger than a 4-room flat).
- c) Larger private residential properties of at least 90 sqm.

2. This temporary relaxation from 22 January 2024 to 31 December 2026 seeks to alleviate pressure on the rental market, as it provides property owners with the flexibility to rent to more tenants who are in need of housing/bed spaces.

3. Property owners who currently house up to six unrelated persons would need to apply to HDB (for HDB flats) or URA (for private residential properties) to include additional tenants, up to a total of eight unrelated persons per accommodation.

Income guidelines

HDB considers the incomes of all persons listed in your HFE letter application to assess your household's eligibility to buy a flat, receive CPF housing grants and take an HDB housing loan.

Assessment	Guideline
Period of income assessment	12 months
End of assessment period	2 months preceding the month of HFE letter application^ ^ For example, if your HFE letter application is submitted in May 2023, the assessment period will be from Apr 2022 to Mar 2023. Note: You must be working at the point of the HFE letter application, for your income to be considered for an HDB housing loan and Enhanced CPF Housing Grant. Applicant(s) taking an HDB housing loan must remain in their employment or trade when HDB disburses the housing loan.
Income components	All components from employment or trade, except bonuses.
Treatment of no-pay leave	The months of no-pay leave will be treated as unemployment. The monthly income is then based on the incomes earned averaged over the months worked.

Types of income/ allowance considered for assessment of household income and credit assessment:

Types of Income/ Allowance	Assessment of household income	Credit assessment for HDB housing loan

HDB Additional Info

3. Bankruptcy-

If a HDB seller is Bankrupt – must you get Official Assignee consent before selling?

IF the seller who belongs to a non-Singapore citizen household (i.e. none of the sellers are Singapore citizens) is an undischarged bankrupt, the seller shall obtain the consent of the Official Assignee to the resale before he submits his resale application to HDB.

If a HDB buyer is Bankrupt – must you get Official Assignee consent before buying ?

Where the buyer is an undischarged bankrupt and he is buying (i) an HDB flat that is bigger than a 5-room flat or a 3Gen-flat, or (ii) any HDB flat with a net purchase price of $500,000 and above, the buyer shall obtain the consent of the Official Assignee to the purchase before he submits his application to HDB
